The City School Superintendency.

Editors Intelligencer: In my article of last week I suggested an engine of wholesate corruption, and an inside that I would furnish another containing the argument on the city Superintendency. But not wishing to go into the subject at length, I shall content myself with requesting you to publish a condensed statement of the argument contained in an article published in the Intributencer of January 23d, 1865, and also in the Register of the same date. A careful perusal of this article will satisfy your readers, I think, of the expediency of retaining the superintendency as it now stands.

In regard to the side issues which have been raised, it is neither my desire nor intention to enter into a personal altercation with any one. I have stated the matter fairly and truthfully, as I believe, before the public. It will be for that public to decide what shall be done in the premises.—Forewarned, I shall merely re-assert my former position, of the trath of which I have not the shadow of a doubt, that there is a settled purpose or less in concert, first to drawj and from the terrible intitering which has been observed of late, I am inclined to believe that some of these parties and the promotion of the trath of which I have not the shadow of a doubt, that there is a settled purpose or less in concert, first to drawj and from the terrible intitering which has been observed of late, I am inclined to believe that some of these parties and seamen who endured the hardships or created in individuals, acting more or less in concert, first to drawj and from the terrible intitering which has been observed of late, I am inclined to be live that some of these parties and seamen who endured the hardships of the strangle our public schools: and from the terrible intitering which has been observed of late, I am inclined to be lived the first of drawing and the terrible intitering which has been observed of late, I am inclined to be lived to the united states of the country. The way in the control of the seaded so much to the wealth and increased the resources of this action.

The article refer

At a regular meeting of the Teachers' Association, of Wheeling, held on Saturday, the 11th inst, it was Resolved. That a committee of three Resided, That we mignly countered to spirit of magnanimity and forbearance with which men who have served in the Rebellion but who now frankly and humselly co-operate with us in restoring the peace of the country and reconstructing the Bouthern State governments upon the basis of Impartial Justice and Equal Rights, are received back into the communion of the loyal people; and we favor the removal of the disqualifications and restrictions imposed upon the late Lebels in the same passeure as their spirit of loyatty will direct, and as may be consistent with the satisty of the loyal people. Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to prepare an argument, showing the necessary connection existing between the office of City Superintendent, and our public schools.

The undersigned having been appointed, in pursuance of the foregoing resolution, would respectfully submit the following considerations:

1. That in most of the States of our Union, and especially the more important cities, where the public school system has been successfully carried out, the office of Superintendent has been proved, by experience, to be a necessary appendage. Documentary evidence on this subject can be produced when called for.

2. That in our own city the experiment of working our public schools without a Superintendent was effectually tried for sixteen or seventeen years, with the result, that the then Board of Education saw the necessity of such an office, and accordingly applied to the Legislature for a law making provision for the same.

3. That among other things that influenced the Board, at the time, were such as these: That the school directors, for trustees as they were then called,) were either unable or unwilling to give such direction and support to the management of the schools, as were necessary to insure their highest efficiency; that a change of the law was necessary in order to give unity and efficiency to the system, and that such a change would tend to promote uniformity in discipline, instruction, text books, &c.

3. That the results anticipated from Bem Advertisements.

an existing necessity, the one of Su-perintendent is equally so, for it is a part of the system, without which ex-perience has proved that the schools cannot be successfully operated. ways regarded the office of Superintendent as a necessary appendage of the public school system, he was decidedly opposed to clothing the office with arbitrary, unjust and unreasonable powers, such as were claimed for it, in the form of a bill presented before the old Board of Education, for their consideration. But the present incumbent is not invested with any such unreasonable-powers. On the contrary, it is believed that his powers, or at least his privileges, might be extended with decided benefit to our schools.

Hair Vigor, For restoring Gray Hair to

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and bald ness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead f fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and njurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted
